COURSE OVERVIEW:

The City of Miami Police Training Center is offering a 40-hour Undercover Tactical Operations course. This will be an intensive practical application course designed for the explicit purpose of tactical officer survival and basic investigative documentation. This course will teach mental and physical survival tactics for officers involved in high-risk encounters with subjects implicated in drugs or other investigations.

Surveillance and other techniques are also described and the students are given the opportunity for hands on practice. The course will expose the tactical officers to several practical surveillance scenarios, which are criticized by the overall quality of the surveillance.

This course is also designed to introduce "Tactics" to new tactical officers, with the emphasis on practical applications.
